

HALO

FLEET BATTLES

WHAT IS HALO: FLEET BATTLES?

Halo: Fleet Battles is an exciting tabletop game that allows gamers to simulate the titanic spaceship battles of the iconic Halo Universe in their home, gaming club or local gaming store.

At its core, the game is designed to provide gamers with the opportunity to immerse themselves in the bitter struggle between the beleaguered United Nations Space Command (UNSC) and the ascendant alien alliance, the Covenant.

The game puts players in the Fleet Commander's chair on the bridge of their Flagship, overlooking the tabletop as they fight epic battles across the Halo Universe.

As Halo: Fleet Battles is expanded over time it will incorporate the many significant milestones in the history of the Halo Universe, along with the introduction of an exciting family of highly-detailed models, designed by Spartan Games in close partnership with 343 Industries.

Ship models will include Carriers, Cruisers, Heavy Cruisers, Supercarriers, Heavy Corvettes, Space Stations, Frigates, Assault Carriers and many more. We will also realise such iconic vessels as UNSC Infinity, UNSC Spirit of Fire, UNSC Pillar of Autumn, Ardent Prayer and many more.

THE HOBBY

A key part of a wargame is the community and hobby that develops around it. Halo: Fleet Battles is set in the established and expanding Halo Universe, and our plans for the tabletop game is to work closely our partners at 343 Industries to grow and establish a tabletop gaming experience that is as rich as the Universe it is set in.

For many non-wargamers the idea of painting models would be daunting, and that is why the models inside the Halo: Fleet Battles box are designed to be gamed 'unpainted' once they've been removed and assembled. But this is not the final goal. The hobby nature of painting models with custom colour schemes is a hugely important part of the game, and this is something Spartan Games will actively promote.

HOW DOES THE GAME PLAY?

Halo: Fleet Battles is based around an alternating 'You Go, I Go' activation system, that sees players working at a Battle Group level, which is key to not only the way you build fleets, but in the way you activate units and fight with them.

Key aspects of the game include:

- Innovative Dice Mechanics which allow for easy to master gameplay.
- A unique Fleet Commander System represents the heroes (and villains) from the Halo universe.
- Fleets can field massed flights of Bombers and Interceptors that duel in vicious Dogfights.
- Mighty space going vessels armed with Magnetic Accelerator Cannons and powerful Plasma Lances that trade blows across the vast expanse of space.
- Spartans and Zealots that face off against each other in deadly boarding actions where nothing short of annihilation will bring victory!
- A highly flexible Formation System allows gamers to decide the construction of their fleets.
- And much more...

SPARTAN GAMES MULTI-POINT FLIGHT BASE

An important part of the the Halo: Fleet Battles design is the new Multi-Point Flight Base, which allows a minimum of 1 model to be plugged into a Formation Base, but can expand to allow multiple models to be used on the same base.

This is one of the most important designs of the game which allows for huge levels of expansion and flexibility to be easily built into the game over time. The concept being that in a Fleet Game ships are designed to fight in formation, with some vessels acting in a Supporting role for other vessels.

For example, in Images 1 below you can see a UNSC Epoch-class Heavy Carrier that is supported by a Paris-Class Frigate. But as future models are released these Support models can change to generate a new fighting Element in the game. Image 2 now shows a UNSC Halberd-class Destroyer (unreleased) supporting the Carrier. This is only a simple example, but this flexibility is achieved by using our new Multi-Point Flight Base and custom Overlay graphics.

Future releases will see an exciting array of new models, including such things UNSC MAC Platforms, UNSC Supercarriers. UNSC Super-Heavy Cruisers, Covenant Assault Carriers, Covenant Destroyers, Covenant DSC Class Support Vessel and much more.

All these ships will be able to interact with each other to create an array of tabletop options, effectively creating new Battle Group Formations by allowing different vessels to Support each other.
